The Poynter Institute is accredited by the Accrediting Commission of the Council on Occupational Education, but is not a degree-granting institution. Universities have granted undergraduate or graduate credit for our programs. Our staff can provide specific information and assistance, but in most cases, participants must make prior arrangements to receive credit with their college or university.

The Poynter Institute maintains admission policies that do not discriminate on the basis of race, color, religion, sex, age, national origin, marital status, disability, or sexual orientation. The Institute collects information concerning race, color, sex, and national origin to facilitate compliance with Titles VI and IX of the U.S. Civil Rights Act.
